*Do you want the opportunity to express yourself creatively in French?
Do you want to improve your French grammar?
Do you want to study texts across several types of media?
If you answered yes, this class is for you!*

We will examine literature, journalism, film, and advertisements to consider the motivation of the text, the way it is developed, the style, and the vocabulary. These analyses will lead to an increased vocabulary, a better and more sophisticated writing style that will allow you to better express yourself in writing and in speaking.
