

FREE VIRTUAL WORKSHOP SERIES

High Moral Values and Ethical Integrity in Collaborative Evaluations

Saturday, October 22, 2022 // 8:00–9:00 a.m. ET

Presented by:

Michael E. Mitchell, M.S., Ph.D. (c)
memitchell@usf.edu

Eudiamonia, human flourishing, is what we seek as a society. As evaluators we take our part in helping others flourish through high moral values and ethical integrity in every aspect of Collaborative Evaluations.

I will share how these precepts, interwoven in the Model for Collaborative Evaluations, have inspired my work in building a survey instrument to examine teacher perceptions.

For access to this virtual workshop, please contact
Dr. Lilliana Rodríguez-Campos
liliana@usf.edu // +1 813 528 5041 // bit.ly/3esf5pL

Call for Workshop Proposals:

We are seeking presenters on a broad array of topics at the national and international levels.

